1. [ ] Comm[it] the two first mentioned barracks installations to have been occupied by 1,000 and 1,200 troops respectively on 22 November. Since it is believed that the posts of Frankfurt/Oder and Beeskow were also occupied to capacity by units of the 7th Gds Mecz Div at that time and only guard details were stationed in Camp Jamlitz at Lieberose troop training grounds, the present strength estimates are believed incorrect. Difficulties regarding the possibility of observation and little training activity which is usually conducted at a low level during that time of the year probably led to erroneous strength estimates. It is therefore believed that, except for the mechanized regiment which is employed in Berlin, all elements of the division were in their billeting area at the end of November. The same conclusions apply to the medium and light AAA units of the 63d AAA Div [ ] in the Fliegerhorst Kaserne. the 10 armored personnel carriers which moved into the Rionier Kaserne on 30 November belonged to the 5th Gds Mitrcl Bn of the division, which is thus confirmed in Fuerstenwalde up to 30 November 1953.
